EMPTY SPACES

Empty spaces where friends once sat
Have now been filled by new spaces.
But we still do not forget the friends
Who shared happy moments with us —
And helped us ease the pain of growing up.
Memories of friends will carry on forever
Even after these spaces have been filled.

I look out into the grey mist of reality, trying to formulate my ideas.

The grey areas offer me a soft consolation and a two edged sword.

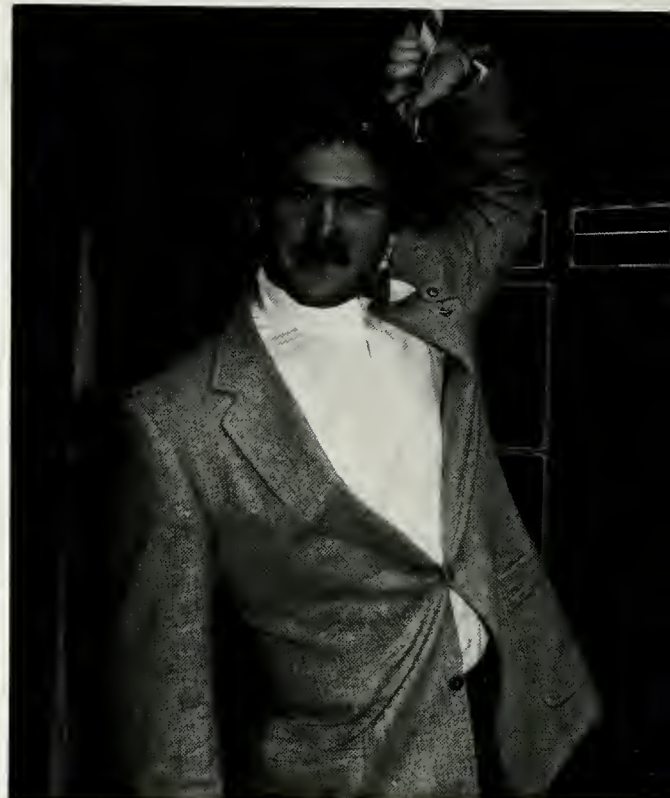

They tell me to live and learn.

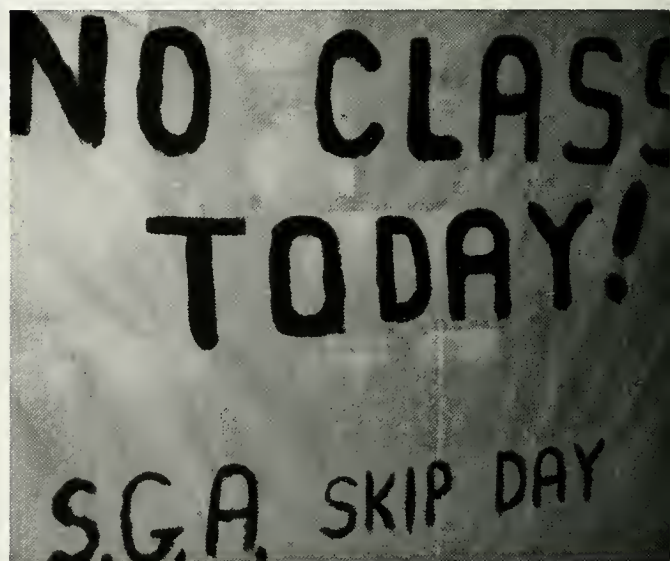

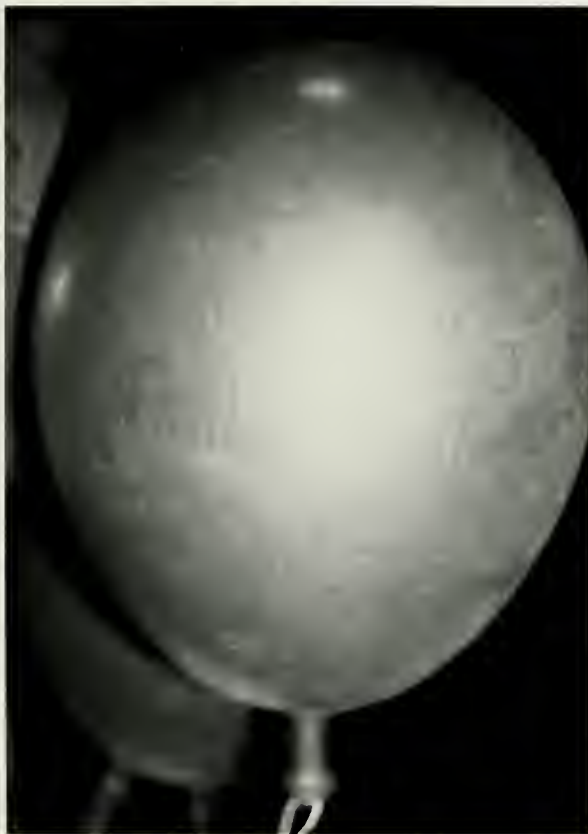

They tell me to learn and live.

They tell me "formulate and do not be afraid to change".

Findlay College is a grey area.
An area for change and growth.

We learned and forgot, cried and laughed, hated and loved.

Then we relearned the things we forgot, laughed over the things that we had cried over,

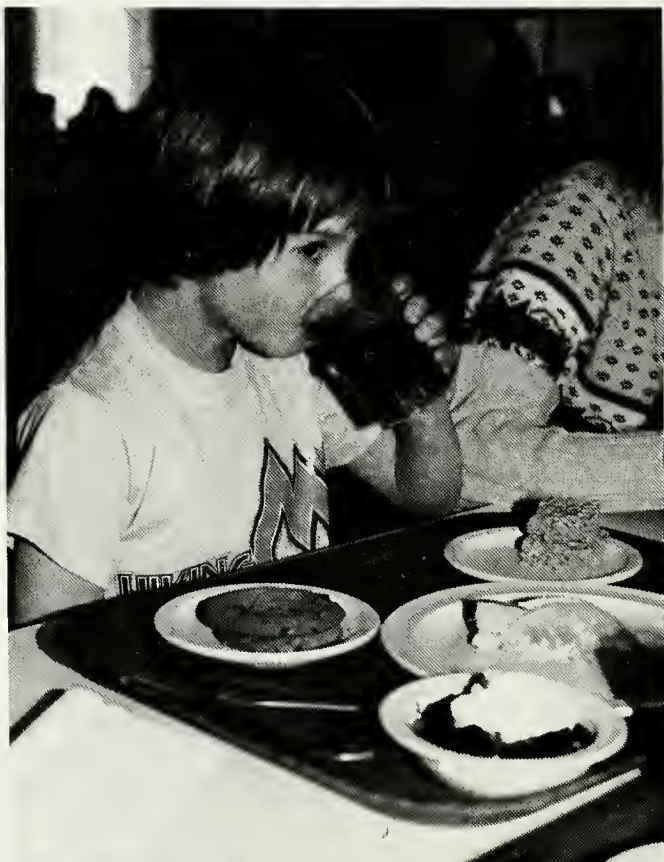

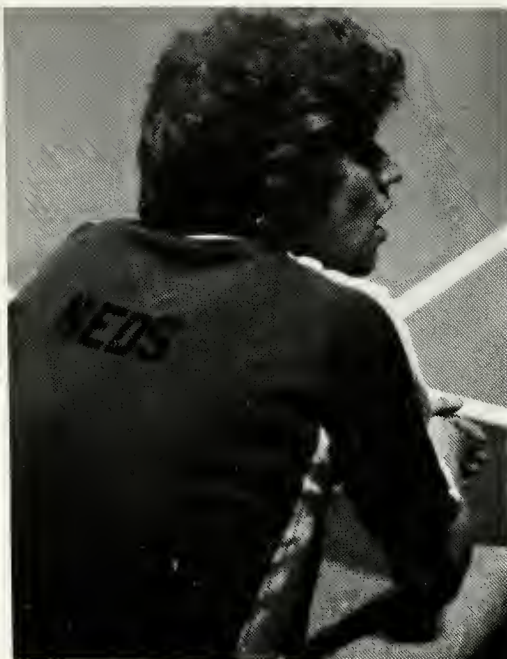

learned to love and to share with our friends, and learned to respect some of the things we had hated.

We filled these grey hazes with our favorite colors of our lives.

A yearbook can not recreate moments.

Its purpose is simply to remind, to make remembrances more vivid,

and to change that greyish haze into everlasting memories.

LEAVING

A tear slides down my face,
I guess I always knew
the time would come,
but it came far too soon.
But leave I must
I have planned so long and if not now when?
Leaving is never easy
whether it's today or tomorrow.

thoughts
That in this moment there is life.

FINDLAY COLLEGE CENTENNIAL SONG 1982

From a field of rip'n-ing grain rose a hall of learning in red-brick'd majesty; a fruit of faith, the Founders' dream.

Harassed with doubt and inner stress with searing fire and deep despair;
through battle strife with shifting size and transient views; yet forged in trust and fortitude, a blessing to posterity.

Years added halls plus increased food for mind: language, intense, bilingual, computer and equestrian; and habitats:
house, trailer, dorms both North and South.

Through welcoming arch the seekers came to "take of knowledge and gain in wisdom; when four years sped they 'turned thru self fame arch to quest a niche in wid'ning world.

Centennial milestone, that Janus year,
with past reviewed and future planned we were, we are and what we are to be we're now becoming we're now becoming
We are now becoming.

Like college, putting together any yearbook is a challenge and then some. The Argus staff and I tried to put together the best Argus that there could be, and we all know that task is impossible to make everything fit into place perfectly. I admit there are quite a few mistakes in this book, either from our end of the processing or the publisher's fault. We tried to do our best, that's all anyone can ask of us.

A special thanks goes out to last year's Argus staff, S.G.A. because without their funding there would be no yearbook, Simone Spurge for all her artistic abilities, and everyone else who helped in any way possible.

I sincerely hope that at least the 1982 Argus brought back memories of yesteryear either with a tear or with a laugh, because the purpose of any yearbook is to look back on moments that we forgot or to reinforce those moments that we will never forget.

Again thanks to everyone who helped in any way possible in completing the 1982 Argus.
